

Christmas Contactless Checklist

- 1. Don't Forget to Decorate

Why can't your contactless device also get a bit of festive cheer? Whether it be a snowy scene on the screen or some tinsel around the device, adding a little decoration can bring your device to life and make it more eye-catching.
- 2. Where are the People?

Visitors may congregate in different areas of your church compared to your weekly congregation, so have a think about where you will put your contactless device. Make sure it's easy to access and easy to see, as the festive season is a time of generosity, so don't miss out!
- 3. Go Tell it on the Mountain

A little bit of encouragement to give can be the nudge that gets the generosity flowing so make sure you ask people to give in your order of service and mention it in your notices from the front.
- 4. Rotas (not another one!)

You'll likely be running more events and services during December, so have a think about getting a few people trained up on your device and organising a rota so that there's always someone near your device to encourage people to give.
- 5. Share Thee Well

If you're using a CollecTin device and a nearby parish also has one, you might want to consider borrowing their device for larger events. Simply logging in to their device will mean your campaigns load and the donations will go straight to your account.
- 6. Anyone for a Mince Pie?

You may be considering offering refreshments at your services during this season, so why not place your contactless unit nearby to encourage people to give whilst they're waiting for their mug of mulled wine.
- 7. Give a Gift this Christmas

If you're fundraising for a different charity over the festive season, you can use your contactless device to do this. As with any fundraising, make sure it's clear who people are donating to and that you have an accurate record of which contactless donations have been given to what cause.
