

Experience earth like never before

VIP Launch

Following the success of Museum of the Moon in 2024, Luke Jerram's Gaia will be unveiled at Blackburn Cathedral this October. As part of a select group, you and up to three guests are invited to join us at the VIP Launch event. Be among the first to share in the wonder of this incredible installation.

About Gaia

Gaia is a touring artwork by UK artist Luke Jerram. Seven metres in diameter, it features detailed NASA imagery of the Earth's surface. The artwork provides a unique opportunity to see our planet on this scale, floating in three-dimensions. 1.8 million times smaller than the real Earth, the installation is a fusion of imagery and sound and is accompanied by a surround sound composition by BAFTA and Ivor Novello award-winning composer Dan Jones.
