

Joseph Kochanski

Joe grew up in Ohio. After leaving home, he spent time in Ireland before moving to New York, where he met his wife, Laura. They later settled in Lancashire, where they were married 19 years ago. They have two sons, Kenny and Bobby. Before exploring a call to ordained ministry, Joe spent 20 years working in finance and project management. He trained at Emmanuel Theological College and completed his placement at All Saints' Church, New Longton. Now, following his ordination to the priesthood, he is excited to continue serving his curacy in the parishes of Tarleton and Rufford.
