

John Lisle

Raised in Boston, John was steeped in faith and sensed God's call to ordination during an internship at St Aldates, Oxford. After studying at University in Liverpool, he worked in anti-slavery before serving in students and youth ministry at St James in the City. He is married to Tiria and they have a one-year-old son, Reuben. During training, John helped plant a micro-church network in Warrington. Passionate about reaching the unchurched and pursuing God's justice, he longs to see people follow Jesus with their whole lives. He is thrilled to serve his curacy at St Luke's, Blackburn!